

BOY BANDIT ROBS A KANSAS BANK

Held Up the Cashier, Shot Him in the Jaw, and Snatched More than $8,00

HAD A COMPANION AGED 15 YEARS

This is the Second Time Young Bullock had Held Up this Bank—the First Time He Killed a Policeman and Taking $1,000 Escaped to Florida where He has Since Lived at a Fashionable Hotel.

Eudora, Kan., Nov. 12.—Earl Bullock, a boy bandit of Lawrence, Kan., accompanied by William Mack, 14 years old, of Jacksonville, Fla., in an attempt today to repeat his exploit of the money market at the Eudora state bank of $800. The shooting first killed Starr, a banker, and later probably wounded himself when closely pursued.

In his first hold-up of the Eudora state bank, Bullock, who is 17 years old, shot and killed a policeman. When officers had about concluded that Bullock had left the state with the loot pursuers turned their attention to Mc Kay with threats of lynching him some announced. This attempt to deal summary vengeance was thwarted by officers, who hurried McKay to the Lawrence jail in an automobile.

After Bullock held up the state bank of Eudora on October 11 he murdered Police Officer Pringle, who attempted to arrest him at his home in Lawrence. It was while in charge of Deputy Sheriff Woods of Lawrence, who arrested the bandits on a charge of robbing a second-hand store that Bullock drew two revolvers and forced Woods and Cashier Wilson to flee. Bullock then shot and snatched $1,000 and fled.

Bandit's Companion Makes Written Statement.

After playing Pringle, Bullock disappeared and until McKay made a written statement tonight of his confession to the crime, whereabouts of the bandits were not known to officers.

According to McKay, Bullock lived

McKay surrendered, but Bullock, wrenching the revolvers from his faltering partner's hands, sped on into a

Miller, a farmer, who knew nothing about the pursuit, stepped in to Bullock's path and the boy, thinking him a pursuer, fired several shots at him. Bullock, who was not aware that the youth was ready to shoot at anyone, the pursuers fired a score of shots at Bullock, who returned the fire.

Shouted Defiance at Pursuers.

Thus the chase continued for some time, none of the shots exchanged between the citizens and the fugitive taking effect. The hunted robber gradually lost ground and with scant hope

DIRIGIBLE BALLOONS
CARRIED OFF FIRST HONORS.
Accident to Curtiss' Aeroplane—Cincinnati Aero Club's Meet.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 12.—Dirigible balloons easily carried off first honors at the opening of the Cincinnati Aero Club's meet at the automatic race track today.

The most noteworthy feature of the crash was the presence of three machines which was displayed by the pilots of dirigibles and aeroplanes. In the wreckage were found a Curtiss biplane, a Curtiss triplane and a Shenauze, Lincoln Beachey and Cromwell Dixon swept around the track, in which they were seen to be flying, and, finally came back to earth, crashed in an apparently dying condition. The Curtiss biplane was undoubtedly F. J. Reid of the same place. From the appearance of the room it is believed that the man who committed a suicide pact. Both had drunk morphine. It is believed the man will recover after about 35 years old and the woman 25.

Washington, Nov. 12.—While the local press has been concerned with the alleged Miss Reid, the Washington Post has discovered with her in the Long Brothers' hotel at Hartford, Conn. The woman is the subject of a theory that the woman is a resident of Langley, Va., and that the man is

On account of Curtiss' accident, which occurred through a collision with a team, the burden of supporting the balloon was placed on Willard. While he attempted no long

An official of the Van Doren Iron works of Cleveland a few days ago said he could learn the whereabouts of F. J. Reid, who was undoubtedly in Washington. The description of Reid tallies with that of the man who reportedly afforded the police the information.

The local police were advised that the name "F. J. Reid" was discovered on a tag attached to his coat which was captured by the police.

Hights, he brought the spectators to their feet and they all began to cheer as he swept past the grandstand, rising and alighting as gracefully as a bird. Soaring maintained a speed of about 25 miles an hour.

SPAIN-CUBA TREATY.

United States Calls Upon Cuban Gov-

Washington, Nov. 12.—Through the United States minister in Havana the state department has called upon the Cuban government for statements intended to disclose whether or not the newly negotiated treaty between Spain and Cuba contains such an arrangement as would destroy the preferential treatment granted American imports in the island and the reciprocal trade reciprocity treaty. The continuance of this treaty, which has done so much to develop the island, and the trade with America, depends probably upon the nature of this answer.
